"My heart trembles as i present this to you, but it's the nature of my job as a watchdog!"

News reaching the desk of www.norbertbennett.com indicates that Bright Nana Amfo has been dating a married trader by name of Ruth who used to live in Fadama for 6 years. The lady in the audio conversation arranges to meet with Bright who was then attending a program in Cape Coast, she further recapped all her lovely moments they both shared in the absence of her husband who was busy toiling to cater for his household.

A brief summary on Bright:

Nana-Amfoh staged a return to the Kanda-based station TV3 in February 2014 after a short stint at JOY NEWS, working as Senior News Editor.

A Fante who hails from Breman Kuntanse in the Asikuma Odoben Brakwa District of the Central Region, his style of journalism is largely hailed by industry watchers.

A former student of Breman Asikuma Secondary School (BASS), and Accra Academy, he did his National Service at Twifo Praso and Tumu in the Central and Upper West regions.

He holds a first degree in Political Science from the University of Ghana, and a Masters degree in Mass Communication from the same institution.

I am now beginning to believe Abeiku Santana's prophesy early this year, when he clearly Stated; "This year, sex will expose many prominent people in Ghana, Ministers, journalists, Preachers etc....

Just hours after Captain Smart had his own issues released by Ghana Celebrities, here we go again...
